THE TEMPERANCE NOMINATIONS

EUGENE CITY May [illegible] 1874

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

From Corvallis to this place yesterday I was very much struck with the feeling expressed as to the nominations made by the Temperance Convention at Portland recently

"Chadwick as a temperance man" is a [illegible] pretty good joke but when it comes to a Temperance Convention publicly endorsing as their champion a man who on the stump announces that he "defies any one in Oregon or California to say they ever saw him drunk [illegible] that when he wants a dram he takes it" as [illegible] Tolman has said at several places--the humor becomes absolutely ponderous If this is Oregon temperance, it is a new kind of [illegible].

The only sentiment aroused is ridicule and the common opinion is that this patched up [illegible] will cost its victims a number of votes.

TRAVELLER

The Steilacoom term of court will convene May 25th instead of the 15th inst.

CAMPBELL LEADS THE VAN

THE CANDIDATES FOR GOVERNOR IN OLD MARION--A LARGE AND ENTHUSIASTIC AUDIENCE GREETS THEM--MR CAMPBELL WINS GOLDEN OPINIONS FROM THE PEOPLE--MR GROVER SQUIRMS AND MR TOLMAN MAKES FACES

[illegible]

SALEM May 9 1874

To day has been a day of considerable excitement caused by a general desire of the country people as well as those who live in town to hear the different candidates for Governor At 1 o'clock the Opera House was densely crowded and a good percentage of the audience was ladies Hon Samuel Allen introduced

MR [illegible] CAMPBELL

Who was greeted with thundering applause, and after a few well chosen preliminary remarks Mr Campbell proceeded to discuss the issues before the people in such a clear, logical and eloquent manner that he soon convinced the audience that he was a good debater and understood the subject thoroughly He said he was here on the part of the people to call upon Gov Grover to explain some of the actions of the Democratic administration of State affairs and proposed to file several indictments against the Governor (Mr Tolman up to this time had not made his appearance although Mr Campbell had been speaking for fifteen minutes but at this juncture he came forward and Mr Campbell asked him to answer the question whether he intended to accept the Temperance nomination and attempt to ride two horses at once, and whether he was a temperance man or not? Mr Tolman said that he did not know of any such a movement until he read the account in the papers and dodged answering the question Mr C here made a splendid point on him for which he was enthusiastically applauded.)

Proceeding in the direct line of his argument Mr Campbell said The people began to be convinced last fall that everything was not right and rumors began to float around that the Grover administration were spending the people's money in an extravagant manner Finally these rumors began to appear in the different newspapers and the discussion of the subject began in earnest and movements were inaugurated looking to the suppression of these frauds and extravagant expenditures of their money This uprising of indignant and outraged people was not confined to this State but was widespread in all the States of the Union It has been discovered that both the National Executive and Congress were tainted with the same disregard to the people's rights and squandering of their money as well as the Executive and Legislatures of the different States

CONGRESS ALREADY FELT THE INFLUENCE

Of the people's movement, and President Grant well knew that the ominous sound meant the indignant protest of the people in regard to the inflation of the national currency and in obedience to that demand he vetoed the bill passed by Congress Even Gov Grover was now willing to head the popular demand He is prepared now to veto the Litigant Act, and in fact was ready to do anything that might be wished although he and Mr Tolman pretended to entertain great contempt for the Independent or People's movement and took all occasions to sneer at it and told their audiences that there was nothing of the movement, and that all Republicans and Democrats must and should vote and support their respective nominees The system of whipping in had been persistently prosecuted as if the voters of Oregon were nothing but serfs and were not allowed the privilege of thinking or voting for themselves Gov Grover accused ex Gov Woods of perpetrating great frauds and Mr Tolman accused Governor Grover of perpetrating frauds and by extravagant expenditure of the proceeds of the enormous taxation of the present time The truth is that both are guilty, and the people would say Stand aside we will chose another and better set of men to run the affairs of State It was the peculiar style of his opponents to say imperiously to the people "We are nominated and you have to support us You must pay no attention to him (Campbell) But mark this thing well all the frauds of the Woods and May administration were the frauds of the Republican party and all the frauds all the extravagance of Grover are the Democratic party's frauds Mark this moreover the renomination of Grover was an indorsement or the party has been imposed upon by the Albany Convention and this last is thought to be true by a great many honest Democrats in this State

Mr Campbell then propounded several difficult conundrums for Gov Grover to crack in regard to the increase of salaries--of private Secretary Assistant Treasurer and State Treasurer of the Assistant Secretary of State the increase of the salaries of Supreme Court Justices--and made damaging comparisons with previous State administrations The Democratic platform was published in all the Democratic newspapers but some of them had left out that part referring to the repeal of the Litigant Act consequently the fact is they are opposed to the repeal If Grover was re elected he would wish to have organs all over the State, as he has had for the last four years and there was no assurance that he would sign a bill repealing this obnoxious law but there was some assurance that he would again veto it

No appeal had been taken to the Supreme Court from Judge Mosher's decision in regard to the Act creating the Board of Equalization for it would prove an ugly subject in this campaign And to further remove it from becoming an issue the Governor had stated after he had been out canvassing several days that the board had resigned But that did not repeal the law and after the election was over they would be reappointed The Governor had vetoed the Portland Police Bill and in his message on that subject said The governing force to rule must be in an absolute manner This is tyranny in its worst form and I hold that our forefathers arose in opposition to a less tyrannical rule than that upheld by Gov Grover

Mr Campbell continued for an hour and a half He was listened to with profound attention, and at times was greeted with prolonged and enthusiastic applause The last ten minutes he consumed in one of his beautiful oratorical efforts--an effort which has not been equaled in this city for many a long day and which stamped him as an orator far superior to any now making the canvass His speech was well commented upon by Republicans who admitted that he was by all odds the best man on the stump

GOV GROVER

Was introduced by W J Herren He immediately commenced to defend his administration It was the same speech that he has spoken at every place He varied it a little by giving the editor of the Statesman a dose of his executive sarcasm called out by an article in this morning's paper in regard to a transaction with the Willamette Woolen Manufacturing Co The way he went after the gentleman who support [illegible] magnificent [illegible] was decidedly interesting and [illegible] severe language contained a great deal of truth But I forgot to state at first that when he commenced to speak a great many left the hall He consumed all of his time in defending himself which seemed to be about as large a contract as he could fulfill

MR TOLMAN

The funny man was now introduced by Capt Scott He proceeded to relate anecdotes and make faces He is evidently intended by nature for a clown in a second rate circus He would say something funny like the comic lecturer in a negro minstrel troupe and then add spice to the same by a distorted face or peculiar wink which would make Uncle Sam Allen laugh and the crowd would in turn laugh at him which the speaker thought was intended for him But when he tried argument which was attempted he foundered about completely out of his element Mr Tolman may be an honest man but he is no more calculated for Governor than he is for an astronomer He took occasion to scalp the editor of the OREGONIAN wherein he used opprobious epithets which did him infinitely more injury than good

MR. TILMON FORD AND HIS COMPETITORS AT LEBANON

LEBANON May 7 1874

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

To day the several candidates for Prosecuting Attorney of the Third District spoke at this place Mr Tilmon Ford opened the discussion by exposing the administrations of both Woods and Grover He showed most conclusively the appalling profligacy of our past and present officials and the most urgent need of reform--especially in the administration of Grover With zeal and eloquence he showed to his attentive listeners the corrupt acts of the Legislature, both of 1870 and 1872, in which they worked for self and party aggrandizement in utter disregard of the people's interests He showed conclusively that the expense of hired offices for the Governor and Secretary of State and other State officials cost over $9,000 more for rent now per term including the Legislative halls during sessions than it would cost the State if they would take the offer of the Opera House Company at the figures they proposed to rent the Opera House in Salem He also alluded to the corruption at Washington City in the intent to vote inflation and showed that now in Congress 140 members of that body held shares in the national Banks of this Government and thus there was a motive for so many Congressmen being in favor of inflation

His opponents, Mr Humphrey, on the Republican ticket, and Mr Whitney, on the Democratic side made very weak replies to Mr Ford's remarks Mr Humphrey said he did not propose to atone for any of the sins of his party and that he was opposed to Federal officials having anything to do in Conventions and was happy to inform the people that the Republican State ticket was made up of honest men opposed to rings cliques &c Well the Captain did the best he could As to Hipple Mitchell, he was like Kelly--"had nothing for or against him," and evaded all points of interest He closed by saying he was a better man for Prosecuting Attorney, he thought, than either Ford or Whitney

Mr Whitney, in his closing speech, displayed that excellency of noise for which he is so well noted and came at the matter like a sheep at a gate post He said nothing for or against Grover His laboring was hard and futile

Facts and figures are what the people want in this canvass and Mr Ford did all of that, which interested the people and in not one single instance did either of his opponents refute any of his arguments Great good for the Independent cause was done at this discussion It was quite observable among Democrats that they have had new ideas given them and several expressed themselves fully satisfied of the necessity for reform

Linn county will give an overwhelming victory for reform in the coming election and such men as Tilmon Ford will add strength daily to the cause He is a man of quick perceptions and sound judgment and he makes no assertion that he cannot substantiate

BUTTEVILLE May 8th 1874

The annual election of officers place of the Association will take place during the meeting All Pioneers and the public generally, are invited to attend

The board in asking a further indulgence of your columns would take the opportunity of tendering to the members of the press its grateful remembrance for past favors especially are we indebted to the Pioneer papers of our State and would say on behalf of the Association that its members will be pleased to welcome you one and all at our annual feast

The business demanding the immediate attention of the Board being now disposed of the meeting adjourned to meet at Aurora on Thursday the 28th inst at one o'clock P M

"And so forth" That is what the neighbors of Mr Robert T Forth one of the members of the Illinois Legislature from the Wayne county district exclaimed the other day on learning that a new boy baby had been born into his family, being the twenty fifth human being that now calls him father We are glad to learn that there is here and there a member of the Illinois Legislature who is of some real service to his State and country --Chicago Journal

FEIGNED IGNORANCE

Perhaps there can be found in the history of Oregon politics nothing more astonishing or more ridiculous than the position of the Polygamy Republican candidate for Congress He goes before the people of this State asking them to make him their representative in Congress, and yet acknowledges himself wholly undecided upon the most pressing as well as the most momentous questions of the hour While the whole country is agitated upon the question of expansion of the currency and while that question rises to such magnitude in Congress as to threaten a political separation between the President and the party that elected him, and appears likely to produce a general disruption of political parties Mr Richard Williams says he has no opinion on the subject Those who have regarded this gentleman as a lawyer of learning and ability, can scarcely be persuaded that he has slipped along through the events of the last few years, and through the animated discussion that has filled the public journals and the halls of Congress for months past and has still formed no opinion on the subject When Antoine Kersting was put on trial in this county some years ago for murder, a person called to serve on the jury swore, on the examination touching his qualifications to serve that he had read the accounts of the murder given by the newspapers, but had not formed any opinion respecting the merits of the case, and the Judge remarked that such a juror ought to be subject to a challenge for general incompetency Now, it is certain that Mr Richard Williams is no such ignoramus as that juror but he makes himself appear exactly such by his assumption of ignorance upon the question which, more than any other excites popular attention Only convince Richard Williams beyond a doubt whether it is the inflationists or the sound-currency people that are going to win, and we venture the assertion he will find out which side he is on with as great alacrity as he found out last fall that his party were wrong in adopting polygamy as one of the main planks in their platform The repudiation of the infamous doctrine by the Republicans of the State at that time was absolutely certain, and no one doubted it, so Richard gave his party the cold shoulder, and refused his vote to honest Hi Smith, who was made the victim of Hipple's insane desire to be whitewashed That polygamy plank is still unrescinded, and remains technically—and Richard is a technical lawyer—a fundamental principle of Republicanism as Republicanism is authoritatively defined by its State Conventions in Oregon But the same Richard Williams is no longer found among the opponents of the monstrous doctrine Instead of an opponent he is the successor of Hiram Smith in the candidacy for Congress, soliciting the support of Hiram and others What is the explanation of this strange conduct? Why does he now turn his back on the men who stood with him in his opposition to corruption, and take his place among the corruptionists? When these questions relative to the polygamy platform are answered the key to his wiley and careful ignorance on the currency question will have been furnished The whole matter is embraced in the words 'will it win?' as the answer to this question becomes more or less certain to the mind of the gentleman his opinions on the matter involved will become correspondingly more or less definite and certain He has shown himself a mere weathercock in his political associations and principles—and a weathercock of the kind, too, that is not always reliable simply as a weathercock

The New York Herald of April 24th, under the caption, 'A Voice from Oregon' —it was a considerable distance from Oregon—gives Hipple's view of inflation as follows

> Senator Mitchell of Oregon [that evidently means Hipple] regards the veto as a great political mistake His State is by no means a unit for hard money The lack of currency on the Pacific slope is as seriously felt as in the West and South and it was for this reason that he supported the Merrimon amendment What the effect of the veto would be ultimately he would not at present attempt to say

Possibly this is at the bottom of the polygamy candidate's uncertainty on the currency question If John Hipple would only make up his mind fully as to the "ultimate effect of the veto," and would advise his candidate for Congress of his conclusion upon the subject, it might put an entirely different face on the campaign, relieving it of the ridiculous feature it now has in the fact of a prominent lawyer canvassing for Congress and declaring himself unable to make up his own mind which side he ought to take on the main question at issue

MR CAMPBELL AT SALEM

From our Salem correspondence it is to be inferred that the Independent candidate for Governor made a very favorable impression on the people of Marion county, yesterday This is confirmed by many who heard him, and with whom we have conversed It is conceded on all sides that Mr Campbell made a splendid effort He was received with the most intense enthusiasm, and his closing address in which the necessity of a complete and thorough reform in our political systems was portrayed with genuine eloquence elicited a most flattering response from the large audience Thus the Salem Daily Statesman which is generally considered by good judges a devoted Hipple organ says of Mr Campbell's speech

> There was a very large crowd in town yesterday principally to hear Tolman and Campbell talk When Mr Campbell opened, the Opera House above and below, was crammed It was full during the whole afternoon except while Grover was croaking over his figures During that time a considerable part of the crowd preferred to stand out in the wet They could stand drenching better than boring We have no room for a report or extended notice of the speeches Campbell made an oratorical display of which we have heard a good many complimentary remarks but we do not think he convinced anybody not already decided to vote for him that they ought to assist in that way in the election of Grover Mr Campbell is an able and pleasant speaker but he did not yesterday exhibit any substantial reason why any voter should prefer him to Tolman

The friends of the Independent cause in every part of State will be gratified to be assured that their eloquent candidate for Governor is realizing all the high hopes with which he was sent forth on his arduous mission Mr Campbell is not only a gentleman of rare accomplishments as a scholar he is also a thorough logician and a practised debater He has none of the arts of the demagogue He is moreover a thorough gentleman So is Governor Grover—every inch of him As for the horse jockey Tolman he is a disgrace to his profession It is sufficient to know of him that the people laugh at him.

The issue of this campaign is by no means difficult to determine Governor Grover has been losing strength constantly day by day, since his nomination He cannot carry the onerous burden of his four years administration No public debater can struggle to advantage when he is kept on the defensive by his opponent This is to Governor Grover the bane of the present canvass His whole time is consumed in elaborate defense of his official conduct

GOOD FOR CLACKAMAS

The Independents of Clackamas county met in Convention last Saturday and nominated a full county ticket, as follows

Senator—W A Starkweather (Rep)
Representatives—J W Cochran (Rep) Jos Young (Dem) R C Ramsby (Rep) George Strickler (Dem)
Sheriff—Heman S Buck (Rep)
Clerk—S J Stevens (Rep)
County Judge—Wm Moreland (Dem)
County Commissioners—L D C Latourette (Rep) Isaac Frost (Rep)
Treasurer—Dr H W Ross (Dem)
School Superintendent — W W Moreland (Dem)
Assessor—John Thomas (Dem)
Coroner—Hiram Straight (Dem)

We congratulate the Independents of Clackamas county on the rare wisdom of their selection With many of their candidates we are personally acquainted, and we are assured by those who are best qualified to judge that the ticket, as a whole is entirely unexceptionable We are especially gratified at the high character of the Legislative ticket

The ring organ calls George Story a chronic office seeker The extent of his office seeking is that he ran once for Councilman from the First Ward of this city and cleaned out the ring candidate to the bed rock But how about Mr Harris, the ring candidate against Mr Story for Clerk? Isn't he an office seeker? He is just finishing up a term as clerk in which he has made thousands of dollars out of the people of this county through the double fees job put up by him and Caywood and Dan Murphy at the Legislature We should think that with office seeker Harris, office seeker Hirsch, chronic office seekers Caywood and Dave Powell prominent on their ticket and half a dozen other office seekers for inferior places the ring would be a little chary about charging people with being office seekers

The Statesman says that as soon as Grover got into office he began by every means to strengthen his position and to thrust wider and deeper the ramifications of his power Whatever may be the facts in regard to Grover's thrusting his ramifications around in the promiscuous manner suggested, we venture the assertion that the passage quoted from the Statesman is the most ramming production rhetorically considered, that can be found outside of the speeches of Oregon's Senatorial ram

They tell a story to the effect that when Tolman received information of his nomination by the Temperance Convention, for Governor he was sitting in the Belvidere saloon, at Salem waiting for the bar-keeper to prepare a whisky toddy for him and that he was greatly rejoiced at the nomination, swearing with the roundest kind of oaths that it was a good thing

The organ of the people who nominated Dave Powell and Sol Hirsch for the State Senate, complains that Judge Strong and Van Cleave independent candidates are not men of sufficient ability

PORTLAND DALLES AND SALT LAKE RAILWAY

A business man of this city has received a letter from a gentleman living east of the mountains from which we are permitted to make some extracts He says there is a greater interest now taken in the passage of this bill than perhaps was ever felt for that of any other enterprise that was ever projected for our northwest coast

'The fact is the value and extent of the country east of the Cascade Mountains are just beginning to be thought of It is not generally known and will scarcely be believed that there is a body of land lying north of Snake river and along the western base of the Bitter Root Mountains 125 miles long from north to south, and about 30 miles wide almost one solid body of the best quality of wheat land producing 40 bushels per acre, and capable of producing twice as much as the whole of the Willamette Valley say 10 000 000 bushels per annum and south of Snake river including Walla Walla Valley and Umatilla county there is perhaps as much more in all having a capacity to produce with ease 20 000 000 bushels of wheat per annum And more than one half of this entire country is lying vacant and unclaimed, because there is no direct route with the East to induce emigration to move into it

Emigration cannot be induced to leave a comfortable line of railway at Kelton and come across the country 500 or 600 miles by land nor after they go to San Francisco to take steamer 700 miles north and then 500 miles east nearly to a point that they passed ten days before But let us have a railroad leaving the Pacific road near Kelton with proper arrangements made with the Union Pacific and Kansas Pacific issuing through tickets from Chicago and St Louis to Walla Walla and Portland and nearly one half of the emigration to the Pacific coast can be turned to our northwest coast where cheap lands can be had and where there are plenty of homesteads to be taken up

It is folly to think of building railroads in a country where there are but few people and where there are very imperfect means of getting emigration into the country and it is also a fact fully demonstrated by statistics that there are no railroads in the United States running north and south that pay as well as those running east and west The inevitable fact that Westward the Star of Empire takes its Way tells more in the history of railroad than in anything else.

There is also a complete revolution going on now in the United States in building and operating railroads The Denver and Rio Grande railroad nearly 200 miles long, has proved for the last year that a first class narrow gauge road can be built and worked for one half the expense that a wide gauge can

I think if Mr Holladay had built a narrow gauge road from Portland to Eugene City instead of the expensive road that is now built it would have done all the business of the country for twenty years and instead of being a terrible load for him to carry it would now be paying good dividends Or what would have been much better had he put the money and ability required to build the Oregon roads in building a cheap road from Kelton to Wallula we might by this time have a well established line of emigration from the East that would fill up our entire country, and render every railroad and steamboat line in the country a paying institution

Congress now seems willing to grant aid and in some shape to build this road Now if the people on this Northwest coast will unite in one earnest effort the thing can be accomplished and the road commenced within one year from this time The State of Oregon has granted a very liberal subsidy worth probably $1 000 000 Walla Walla will do her share Baker county has promised through one of her most reliable citizens to grade and tie the road from Baker City to the north line of the county nearly forty miles Idaho will probably issue bonds for some $2 000 per mile through her Territory I cannot but believe that Portland the point that will be benefited more than any other place on the line will come forward now and help at this critical time to secure so great an enterprise

CURRY COUNTY LETTER

CURRY COUNTY May 1874

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

The Independents appear to be flourishing in every county but Curry Here they seem to be dead or sleeping But on the first Monday in June the Independent State ticket will furnish proof to the contrary—that the Independent cudgel is raised and will come down with effect until all the old political hulks have been sunk

REFORM IS WANTED

Here in more ways than one and your valuable paper has done much to enlighten us on many points and subjects But there is one to which I have never seen any allusion and in connection with which we of the coast have suffered considerably and would like to know what is the best remedy In 1863 lands were located here The fractions or lots have fallen short when the patent came nine or ten acres to each lot The patents will average about ten acres short of the receipts on each lot or in other words a man will pay for 30 acres and his patent come for 20 acres Go to the Land Office about it and they will laugh at you and tell you to apply at Washington for your money I am confident they have a false plat in the Land office from which our maps are made The Hippleites have it all their own way and well do they make use of it Is there no remedy? Cannot this thing be broken up? Are we compelled to submit to such swindles

A LAND HOLDER

This from the Hawkeye for instance

The Umpqua Call says the reason the Bulletin supports the ring ticket is because it is Holladay's paper and edited by the Collector of Customs the Journal because its editor gets an annual surveying contract the Sentinel on account of small favors and the Gazette because its editor has no better sense And we will add the Statesman because birds of a feather will flock together

The Bulletin says Jasper W Johnson monopolizes all the brains of the Johnson family Doubtless that's what's the matter with Carey

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.—We note the following from a Pittsburgh paper which may be of interest to the members of the Order in this State: "Oregon not Maine was the furthest away State sending a representative to the Pythian convention." Oregon had no representative in the convention unless it was a self-constituted delegate—probably a former resident. The following officers were chosen at the annual session of the Supreme Lodge of Knights of Pythias, which closed on the 23d ult. in that city: A. S. Davis, of New Hampshire, Supreme Chancellor; D. REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE.—The following is the report of the Special Committee to whom was referred the matter of the petition asking to have the liquor traffic in this city suppressed. In the regular proceedings of the Council last week, the report was unintentionally omitted:

To the Honorable Common Council: The committee to whom was referred the subject of temperance respectfully report that they are agreeable to the spirit of said petition and have decided to make their report on the matter in ordinance, but owing to their having so decided at an hour too late to prepare the same for consideration this evening, they respectfully ask that further time be granted.

Mr. J. C. Moreland is the third member of the Special Committee.

CAPSIZED.—A party of young men—some four or five—while out sailing yesterday, did not have the boat sufficiently ballasted, carried too much sail or did not know how to manage a boat and as the most reasonable result in the world contrived to capsize the craft. They all clung desperately to the rigging and upturned keel and did some responsible yelling. Fortunately a number of boats were out at the time. Several went to the rescue and took the fellows away. A good scare and all the starch taken out of their shirts, was the extent of damage sustained.

PICNICS.

To-morrow, Tammany Day, the Red Men of Portland will hold their third annual picnic, down the river on the farm of Jonathan Moor. All that is necessary to insure the complete success of the affair is good weather. The elegant new steamer Willamette Chief has been chartered for the occasion and also the Portland Brass and String Band engaged to furnish music. Dr. John B. Pilkington has been chosen as orator of the day. To-morrow at 8 o'clock A. M. the members of Multnomah Tribe, No. 3, Oneonta Tribe No. 4, of the Great Council, visiting brothers and members on card, will assemble at the Wigwam for parade. The Committee have taken special precautions, and no disreputable characters will be allowed to attend the picnic. A splendid dancing platform has been provided at the grounds, for the benefit of all who delight to trip the light fantastic toe. Should the weather only prove favorable an immense crowd may be anticipated.

The City Rifles propose to give a picnic on the 29th of May. The grounds have not been selected yet.

AMUSEMENTS.

Last Saturday evening the third and last rendition of the "Poor of New York" was given at Oro Fino Theater. There was present a very fair and appreciative audience. With no spirit of criticism we will say that the several characters personated in the piece were more faithfully delineated on this third presentation than on the two preceding occasions. In fact the whole play passed off more smoothly and in a manner satisfactory. This was no doubt more attributable to the appreciation manifested by the audience than to any other circumstance. Actors and actresses above all other class of professionals, like to know that their efforts to please meet with public favor, and no class of persons feel more keenly any lack of appreciation on the part of the audience than they do. On that score our amateur friends have no reason to find fault. It applause can be regarded as an indication of approbation then the audience must have keenly relished the performance. Mr. R. C. White notwithstanding, I hum to be a professional actor and his personation are more open to criticism for that reason, acquitted himself in a more satisfactory manner than on the first and second presentations. But little sympathy can be expected from the audience in delineating such a villainous and despicable character as Gideon Bloodgood, but with all its repugnant features Mr. White invested the part with an interest which remained to the end of the play. The principal or central character of the play was that of Tom Badger, personated by Dr. C. M. Brown. In several minor respects Mr. Brown improved on his previous efforts and his Badger of Saturday evening was free from criticism. Badger was certainly a success in his hands, and he was fortunate enough to make several good hits which were rewarded by deserved applause. Mrs. L. H. Briggs' rendition of the haughty and heartless Alida Bloodgood was faultless. Her acting had all the grace, ease and stage address of an experienced actress. Possessed of a clear voice, a good figure, correct elocution and graceful gesticulation her rendition of Miss Bloodgood could not be otherwise than excellent. Her personation of the character was in no respect inferior to Mrs. Waldron, which is saying much in behalf of any amateur. Mr. Frank Beardsley, who represented Mark Livingstone, played his part very acceptably. Considering the difficult role of a lover and walking gentleman required in the character, Mr. Beardsley did remarkably well. H. D. Chapman as the old sea Captain Adam Fairweather rendered that character in a manner which surprised his friends. His acting on Saturday evening evinced marked improvement, and entitled him to receive much credit. The acting of Miss Ella Ball as Mrs. Fairweather, and Mrs. Gilbert as Lucy Fairweather could scarcely have been improved upon. Both these ladies exceeded even their own anticipations in personating the respective characters and agreeably surprised their numerous friends. Mr. Gilbert as Paul Fairweather was all that could have been desired. We cannot omit to mention Mr. and Mrs. Puffy personated respectively by Fred Gere and Miss Minnie Welch. Each did the part assigned in a capital manner, and caused the audience much innocent merriment. Dan Puffy did not suffer at the hands of Mr. E. R. Bow. That individual is up to snuff and made a "hit" in taking to perfection Master Jonny Dougherty in his song and dance, "Love Among the Roses," won several encores. The parlor scene, just before the final denouement, was one of the finest which we have yet seen on the Oro Fino Theater stage, and the fire scene was one of the best spectacular exhibitions of the "fiend" which has been produced for a long time. The Dramatic Association should feel proud of the result of their effort in the histrionic line.

RAILROAD MEETING.

Pursuant to announcement that a public meeting would be held in the interest of the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad, a number of citizens assembled at Ankeny's Hall last Saturday evening. We confess our surprise that there was such a small attendance, and such a small proportion of the capital of the city represented considering the importance of the meeting and the direct bearing of the objects of the same on the most vital and material interests of Portland. Although the meeting had been advertised for several days through the press of the city not one twentieth of the wealth of Portland was represented and several of the prominent speakers who were announced to address the meeting were from some cause absent. Speaking was announced to commence at 7:30, but in consequence of the tardiness of the crowd the meeting was not called to order until nearly an hour later.

J. G. Chapman called the meeting to order and moved that Mr. J. H. Fisk be chosen Chairman. The motion prevailed, and Mr. Fisk took the Chair. On assuming the Chair that gentleman stated that he was ignorant of the object of the meeting and he should be compelled to call on Mr. Chapman to come forward and explain. The gentleman alluded to made his appearance on the rostrum and proceeded briefly to state the object for which the meeting had been called.

W. W. Page, Esq., was next called upon to address the meeting in behalf of the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake railroad. He was followed by James O'Meara, J. T. Caples and W. C. Johnson, all of whom spoke in the warmest terms of the important enterprise, the very great benefits which would accrue to Portland should the road be constructed, and urging all our citizens to subscribe liberally toward raising funds to enable Col. Chapman to secure the passage of the bill now pending before Congress. These gentlemen's remarks were frequently applauded.

At the close of the meeting, the following resolution was offered by Mr. Page and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the Chairman of this meeting appoint a committee of three in each ward of this city to canvass their respective wards for the purpose of raising funds in aid of the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake railroad; that said canvassing be requested to be done on Monday and Tuesday next; that the members of the committee and the Chairman of this meeting meet on Tuesday evening and the Chairman forward the sum raised by telegraph to Col. Chapman: Provided, That the sum subscribed be considered a loan to the Company for six months.

As such committee the Chairman appointed the following persons:

First Ward—J. L. Hallett, E. Russell, H. W. Scott.

Second Ward—Van B. DeLashmutt, A. G. Walling, Geo. F. Green.

Third Ward—J. A. Strowbridge, Lewis Love, O. P. Mason.

East Portland—Cyrus Buckman, Sr., Dav. Raffety, N. H. Lane.

The several committees are requested to meet on Tuesday evening and report to the Chairman, Mr. Fisk, the result of their labors.

On motion the meeting adjourned.

LETTER FROM THE MINES.

In a late number of the Olympia Courier we observe the following letter written by a person who is at the Stikine mine. The letter bore date of Dease Creek, April 13th. The writer says:

I have been in the mine over a month and am still in doubt as to what I shall say about them, but one thing is certain they have been vastly overrated. The discoverers of the mines told about the truth in regard to them as far as they prospected, but some of those that came up last in the fall carried back the most extravagant yarns imaginable, when the fact is they were here but a few days when it was closed and there was so much snow that they could not prospect to advantage. I will state as near as possible the situation of things in here. The mines so far as now known are confined to Dease Creek and Thibet Creek. The prospecting this winter on Dease Creek showed that there is gold in paying quantities, ... month mouth ... [illegible] worthy of note. On Thibet Creek ... [illegible] ... the creek ... the mines on ... [illegible] ... may be found on the ... next summer when men can travel and not have the snow and frozen ground to contend with. Both creeks are owned as far as there is any pay, and a great deal more, and men are returning disgusted because they can find nothing. There is now about two feet of ice in the creek; this has to be dug through and ground thawed before the ground can be tested. There is no telling how deep the frost extends, so you can see by that that it is uphill work to prospect at this time of the year. About the time the ice leaves the creek will rise and suspend operations for about six weeks. This makes the mining season very short. Grub is from $1 to $1.50 per pound—indeed some articles are much higher, such as tea, coffee, etc., and but very little for sale at that. There would have been hard times if the boys had not hauled supplies in with them.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Last Saturday a fine gray horse belonging to Everding & Farrell, attached to an express wagon, backed off the wharf, carrying the wagon along. The animal soon died from the injuries sustained.

About 9:30 o'clock last Saturday morning a fire was discovered in the roof of the American Exchange, and also in the roof of Smith's saw mill on Market street. The alarm was given, and in a few minutes the Fire Department was on hand, but too late to be of service, the flames in both instances being extinguished before the arrival of the engines.

A PERSONAL EXPLANATION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

PORTLAND, May 12, 1874.

I see in the Daily News a statement reflecting very much upon my character, and I wish to vindicate myself and let the public know precisely how the case stands between Mr. Ladd and myself. The article in question intimates that I offered to let Mr. Ladd escape for a pecuniary consideration. In reply, I will merely state that Mr. Ladd does not tell the truth when he states that I offered to let him escape for a consideration. During the time that Mr. Ladd was under my supervision there was no intimation whatever as regarded his making his escape. He did not offer me any money to let him off, and I as I can prove substantially did not say a word to him as regards his making his escape.

Now the public would like to know what has become of the money that was captured on Mr. Ladd's person. I will give the facts as plainly as I can.

On last Tuesday morning, May 5th, a dispatch came to Oakland for McCoy stating that a man had come to Comstock's Mill the night before (Monday) with the information that Mr. Ladd had been captured at the mouth of Elk creek, and that the party who had captured him wanted the Sheriff to come and take Mr. Ladd without delay. I took the dispatch and hunted up McCoy, to whom I gave the said telegram. I then told McCoy that I would go and assist the party who had Mr. Ladd in charge, and being out of funds I requested Mac to let me have some money. Mac gave me $2. I then started off to hunt up the party who had captured Ladd, and after riding about twenty miles, I came upon "Truthful Bob" and escort. Mr. Ladd was mounted on a horse but he was not secured in any manner, and as the night was very dark I thought that perhaps he (Mr. Ladd) would make another McCoy slip, so I concluded to secure him with a chain and take one end of said chain in my hand to prevent Mr. Ladd from slipping off his horse and perhaps getting hurt. Mr. Ladd demurred to this proposition, and requested me to secure him to the horse, as he did not want to be led like a dog. I then secured him firmly to the horse, after which our party hurried on to Oakland, and after crossing two ferries, eating supper at Mr. Kellogg's and breakfast at Mr. Long's, we reached Oakland next day about noon. I then turned over Mr. Ladd and the money I had found on Ladd's person ($404 25) at Mr. Ladd's request, to Mr. McCoy. Our party then proceeded to Portland, at which place we arrived next day (7th inst.).

On the next day (8th inst.) I met Mr. Jos. Knott, who asked me for the money I had taken from Mr. Ladd. I told Mr. Knott that the money was in Mr. McCoy's possession. I then saw Mr. McCoy and asked him what he had done with the money. Mr. McCoy stated that the School District had garnished the money.

This is all that I know about the matter. I can substantiate every word of this statement, if necessary, under oath.

The public mind is occupied over the late defalcation about the P. D. & S. L. R. R. and where to procure that needed article—Clothing. MONDAY MORNING MAY 11, 1874

LETTER FROM DOUGLAS COUNTY

FROM OUR TRAVELING CORRESPONDENT

CANYONVILLE, May 8 1874

Rain and sunshine have followed each other in such delightful succession for the last ten days as to make the Umpqua valley the most promising spring for grass and crops known for years. The climate of this valley during the spring summer and fall months from April to November—is not surpassed on the Pacific coast for promoting health. The scenery consisting of valleys foothills rivers and mountains is varied beautiful and [illegible]. The rising sun as he gilds the tops of these mountains and casts his rays into the valley or the setting sun as he reflects his soft and brilliant light on the same is a sublime sight that must be seen to be appreciated. It is no wonder that the pure bracing air of these mountain heights and the magnificent scenery should inspire in the breasts of the people the spirit of liberty and independence and that here should be born and cradled a united power that is breaking up party tyranny oppressive taxation and corrupt rings. It is a matter of congratulation to find this spirit pervading the minds of the masses of the people of Douglass county. The coming election will tell the depth of their convictions the power of their wills and the strength of their united action to reform abuses break up rings, restrain corruption and re establish the reign of justice.

THE FLOCKS AND HERDS OF DOUGLAS COUNTY

This county has a great number of small valleys of rare beauty, rich and productive soil but its vast extent of foot hills and mountain slopes make it pre eminently adapted for flocks and herds. There are at least 150 000 sheep in the county, that will yield this season about 600,000 lbs of wool, that will pay from twenty-five to thirty cents per pound making the total income from this source from $150 000 to $180,000.

The better class of sheep farmers are slowly and steadily improving their flocks by the introduction of thorough bred rams. But the facts are patent that the ranges are over-stocked so much so that the native bunch grass is almost entirely destroyed, the soil covered with a miserable substitute and innumerable weeds. The results are that the sheep are comparatively poor, the "scab" is on the increase, and a fourth of the wool will be lost this year. It is only here and there that a flock is to be found free from this hateful and destructive disease. I saw several flocks where some of the sheep had rubbed off their entire fleece, others a half and many a fourth. There is no doubt but this disease has got an alarming ascendancy among the flocks in Douglas county. Formerly one acre was sufficient to graze a sheep in this county, now it takes from two to three acres. There are some exceptions to these statements but they are few and far between. The evil is enhanced by the fact that the ranges are diseased as well as the sheep. Farmers who have large flocks are sending portions of them east of the Cascades, where bunch grass is abundant, and with the view of giving the home range rest and time to recruit. A few who can afford it, are resolved to send off their entire flocks east of the mountains for two years so as to recuperate the soil, get the range clear of disease and introduce a better class of sheep.

Cattle are exposed to the same drawbacks as sheep by overstocking. The results are that they are being sent east of the mountains in large numbers also, where the rich bunch grass is free to all comers. Although cattle are reduced in value one-half during the last two years, yet they still pay the stock men in the Cascade Range a fair remuneration. The grazing costs nothing, and the expenses of superintending are trifling. At present nothing pays better in Douglas county or east of the mountains than good sheep on a range clear of disease and well supplied with grass. Mr Thos Smith on the North Umpqua river, has a range of 2,700 acres. He has six miles of a water frontage and a flock of 1,500 sheep and 100 head of cattle, and as many east of the Cascades. The range is admirably adapted for both sheep and cattle. He is an excellent example of what industry, perseverance and integrity of character can accomplish. From a hard working man at 25 cents a day he has risen to be one of the successful and influential men of the county. He and Mr J D Burnett have introduced Angora goats with considerable success. The former has a hundred head including this year's kids, and the latter has eighteen in all. Both are satisfied that these goats are well adapted for the climate, soil, foot-hills and mountain slopes of Douglas county. Mr Burnett's family have trained some of the goats, so that they can be milked. They yield two quarts a day each and suckle twin kids. The milk is rich and the butter it yields is excellent. They yield an average fleece of two pounds each, that sells for about 75 cents a pound. That is as valuable as a fleece of wool of five pounds weight at thirty cents a pound. Mr Burnett has a range of 1,800 acres, the half of which is fine pasture. Some idea may be formed of the extent of the "scab" when such flocks as his Mr Thomas Smith's and Mr Charles Applegate's are partially diseased with it.

POLITICAL RINGS AND CORRUPT POLITICIANS IN DOUGLAS COUNTY.

Few counties in the State have suffered as much as Douglas county from corrupt rings and partisan politicians. The last Legislature appropriated $15,000 to be paid out of the swamp land fund, to repair 15 miles of the road—10 miles north and 5 miles south of Roseburg, known as the black mud district. The County Commissioners, knowing that there were no funds available at that time from swamp lands, levied the $15,000 on the county, in violation of all law. The Commissioners appointed one of themselves to superintend the work at a liberal salary, employed none but the satellites of the Roseburg ring to do the work, issued scrip on the Treasurer for the full amount the workmen were paid by this scrip, which they were forced to sell to the ring and their friends at 50 cents on the dollar. The Commissioners appointed one of their number to examine and accept the work which he did. Instead of repairing the 15 miles of the road that the $15,000 was amply sufficient to do, the Commissioners partially improved less than 4 miles south of Roseburg and nothing whatever was done to the 10 miles north of the town. Had the repairs been open to competition, what has cost $15,000 would have been done for $3,000, and the entire work contemplated by the Legislature would have been completed for the $15,000. It would be an interesting inquiry for the next Legislature, who pocketed the $12,000, the difference between what the work actually cost and the money received? Between the profits on boarding the men, the sale of whisky, and buying the scrip at fifty cents on the dollar the "ring" must have pocketed nearly the whole of the $15 000!

The tax-payers did not sit idly by under such illegal and outrageous conduct, they remonstrated with the Commissioners but their remonstrances were in vain. They appealed to the District Court for a "review" but Judge Mosher ruled them out as "strangers, and have no legal standing in Court" although three eminent lawyers, who appeared for the tax payers, were so confident of the justice and equity of their claims for a "review" that they were to ask no fee if they did not succeed. The tax-payers appealed to the Supreme Court—the result was the same. The same arbitrary decision was made. Judge McArthur, in pronouncing the decision of the Court, said "In all cases where the proceedings sought to be reviewed involve a matter of public interest affecting a great number of persons, the allowance of the writ is in the sound discretion of the Court and if refused the refusal is not subject to review on appeal." These decisions are now the law of the State until reversed by Judges who believe that tax payers have rights that Courts of law ought to respect. Is it any wonder that the tax payers of Douglas county want to change the Board of County Commissioners, County and District Judges—men who can set at defiance the fundamental principles of law and equity and establish precedents that are as arbitrary as the "star chamber" or the most despotic Court in Europe at the present day.

THE MISMANAGEMENT OF THE SCHOOL FUND

Is a standing grievance in Douglas county. The Governor, Secretary of State and the State Treasurer are the legal Board of Managers of the Irreducible Fund for school purposes. By negligence in collecting the principle and interest $5 000 of this fund was lost some years since. At present there are $14 000 loaned on which interest has not been paid all the way from three quarters of a year to four years, all of which should be paid in advance, and $1 200 of the principle is on the verge of being outlawed. The result is that some of the District Schools are only getting this year half the amount from this fund that they got last year. Is it any wonder that the tax payers and parents of the school children in Douglas county want a change in the managers of this Board.

THE CANYONVILLE TOLL ROAD

Has been an intolerable grievance to the farmers of that district and to transient travelers generally. A grand struggle is now going on to perpetuate the evil. The tax payers have [illegible] keep in good [illegible] the County Commissioners have [illegible] with a renewal of the [illegible] company to continue the privilege of an exorbitant toll road.

It is to keep the control of the County Commissioners the County and District [illegible] Democrat [illegible] the Canyonville [illegible] is an oppressive toll road by the Canyonville Republican Road Ring that lies at the basis of the late union between the Democratic and Republican leaders in Douglas county to form a fusion ticket so that united they can elect the men that will serve their purposes. These facts will give your readers the key to the motives that led to their unnatural alliance offensive and defensive between these two political factions. And the grievances here stated are a sample of the reasons that account for the just indignation of the people the spontaneous uprising of the taxpayers and the rapid formation of the Independent party in this county with the purpose of electing men to public offices who will re establish law and order and vindicate the rights of the people. THE EMANCIPATION PROCLAMATION

THE LATE CHIEF JUSTICE CHASE'S ACCOUNT OF ITS CONSIDERATION

Judge Warden late private secretary of the late Chief Justice Chase in his biography of the latter, gives the following extract from Mr. Chase's diary in reference to the consideration of President Lincoln's emancipation proclamation in Cabinet meeting just before its promulgation:

"Monday September 22 1862—To department about 9. State department messenger came with notice to heads of departments to meet at 12. Received sundry callers. Went to the White House. All the members of the Cabinet were in attendance. There was some general talk, and the President mentioned that Artemus Ward had sent him his book. Proposed to read a chapter which he thought very funny. Read it and seemed to enjoy it very much—the heads also except Stanton, of course. The chapter was 'High Handed Outrage at Utica.'

The President then took a graver tone and said:

"Gentleman I have, as you are aware, thought a great deal about the relation of this war to slavery and you all remember that, several weeks ago I read to you an order I had prepared upon the subject, which on account of objections made by some of you was not issued. Ever since then my mind has been much occupied with this subject, and I have thought all along that the time of acting on it might probably come. I think the time has come now. I wish it was a better time. I wish that we were in a better condition. The action of the army against the rebels has not been quite what I should have best liked. But they have been driven out of Maryland and Pennsylvania is no longer in danger of invasion. When the rebel army was at Frederick I determined as soon as it should be driven out of Maryland to issue a proclamation of emancipation, such as I thought most likely to be useful. I said nothing to any one, but I made a promise to myself and (hesitating a little) to my Maker. The rebel army is now driven out and I am going to fulfill that promise. I have got you together to hear what I have written down. I do not wish your advice about the main matter, for that I have determined for myself. This I say without intending any thing but respect for any of you. But I already know the views of each on this question. They have been heretofore expressed, and I have considered them as thoroughly and carefully as I can. What I have written is that which my reflections have determined me to say. If there is anything in the expressions I use or in any minor matter which any of you think had best be changed, I shall be glad to receive the suggestions. One other observation I will make. I know very well that many others might in this matter as in others do better than I can and if I was satisfied that the public confidence was more fully possessed by any one of them than by me and knew of any constitutional way in which he could be put in my place, he should have it. I would gladly yield it to him. But though I believe that I have not so much of the confidence of the people as I had some time since I do not know that, all things considered, any other person has more and however this may be, there is no way in which I can have any other man put where I am. I am here. I must do the best I can, and bear the responsibility of taking the course which I feel I ought to take."

"The President then proceeded to read his emancipation proclamation making remarks on the several parts as he went on, and showing that he had fully considered the subject in all the lights under which it had been presented to him.

"After he had closed Gov Seward said "The general question having been decided nothing can be said further about that. Would it not however, make the proclamation more clear and decided to leave out all reference to the act being sustained during the incumbency of the present President; and not merely say that the government recognizes but that it will maintain the freedom it proclaims?"

"I followed saying "What you have said Mr President, fully satisfies me that you have given to every proposition which has been made a kind and candid consideration. And you have now expressed the conclusion to which you have arrived clearly and distinctly. This, it was your right and, under your oath of office your duty to do. The proclamation does not indeed mark out the course I would myself prefer but I am ready to take it just as it is written and to stand by it with all my heart. I think, however the suggestions of Gov Seward very judicious, and shall be glad to have them adopted."

"The President then asked us severally our opinions as to the modifications proposed saying that he did not care much about the phrases he had used. Every one favored the modification and it was adopted. Gov Seward then proposed that in the passage relating to colonization some language should be introduced to show that the colonization proposed was to be only with the consent of the colonists, and the consent of the States in which the colonies might be attempted. This too was agreed to and no other modification was proposed. Mr Blair then said that the question having been decided he would make no objection to issuing the proclamation; but he would ask to have his paper presented some days since against that policy filed with the proclamation. The President consented to this readily. And then Mr Blair went on to say that he was afraid of the influence of the proclamation on the border States and on the army, and stated at some length the grounds of his apprehensions. He disclaimed most expressly, however all objections to emancipation per se, saying he had always been personally in favor of it—always ready for immediate emancipation in the midst of slave States rather than submit to the perpetuation of the system."

A TOUCHING INCIDENT.—A recent letter from the chaplain of the Auburn Prison relates the following affecting incident: "There died in this prison during the past week a young man of good parts, member of a highly respectable family in another land and who became involved in the meshes of the law through moral irresolution rather than innate depravity. His thoughts which had wandered much during the latter days of the last, one of all centered upon his home and he imagined that the most eager wish of his heart in this extremity had been realized, and that his loving mother soothed his dying bed. A few moments before his soul took flight he raised himself slightly and extending his attenuated arm drew down close to his lips the shadow conjured from his own fancy, thus. While with a look of ineffable content glorifying his pallid features, his last breath was surrendered (as he thought) to the parent who bore him."

Congressman Wm A Phillips of Kansas received a dispatch from his home in Salina the other night saying that his residence valued at $17 000 had been totally destroyed by fire but through great exertion most of the library, which was worth $10, was saved.

[illegible] what cannot be done in the matter of resumption of specie payments by the Government [illegible] Congressmen [illegible] New York exchanges says:

Between the 19th of November 187[illegible] and the [illegible] of March the [illegible] But this is only one half the story. In the [illegible] weeks the bank's reserve in coin and bullion has been increased from [illegible] million francs [illegible] disappeared.

Here is a simple fact [illegible] What [illegible] will return to a country when it is needed. The [illegible] Specie is coming into the country from all directions from Germany especially and gold as well as Silver. This has been going on in the face of another obstacle which bull monetists have set up as incapable of being surmounted. They say that specie payments cannot be resumed while the balance of trade is against us. But the balance of trade on account of deficient harvests has been against France all this time.

Following is the statement of gold and silver coinage for the month of April at the United States Mint at San Francisco: Double eagles $1 160 000 trade dollars $278 000 quarter dollars $11 000 total for April $1 [illegible] 000. The total coinage for the 10 months of the fiscal year of 1873 and 1874 is $22 [illegible] 000. The aggregate value of the coinage for April does not come up to other former months but if the work on trade dollars had been expended on double eagles instead the Mint would have turned out $9 039 000 instead of $1 [illegible] 000 the trade dollar requiring as much work and the same nice adjustment as the twenty dollar pieces.

The report of the New York Savings Banks for 1874 is quite favorable. There has been an increase of 10 800 in the number of open accounts with depositors an increase of $237 500 in the amount of deposits and an increase of $1 6[illegible] 400 in the surplus fund. In view of the severe ordeal to which they were subjected last fall the above figures are eminently gratifying. It has been ascertained that those who withdrew during the panic were generally large depositors who probably made other investments. The average amount to the credit of depositors is $460. The deposits in the California Savings Banks it will be remembered show an average of $875.

The spring clip of Wool in California is now coming forward quite rapidly. The receipts at San Francisco week before last were 8400 bales against 4100 bales for the previous week. The spring clip began to arrive about the middle of March. There were 25 bales received during the week ending March 21st. In the following week the receipts were 2[illegible] bales. For the week ending April 4th the quantity was 341 bales against 1 618 bales for the week ending on the 11th and 2 6[illegible]7 bales for the week ending on the 18th. The receipts for the past seven weeks aggregate 14 700 bales. The clip is a month later than last year, and the bulk is yet to arrive.

For the information of those having business with British Columbia we publish the following principal amendments to the Canadian tariff submitted last week. Green tea [illegible] black [illegible]. Sugars are placed on the same list as last year viz ad valorem. Wire rigging has been added to the 5 per cent list and bunting cables, iron masts and pig iron are struck off together with steel copper and yellow metal. The cheaper wines have a specific duty of 30c ⅌ gallon other wines except sparkling 40c sparkling $[illegible] ⅌ doz qts. Silks satins velvets, gold silver or plated ware fancy goods hats caps bonnets jewelry, watches and clocks have been placed on the 17½ per cent list. Iron—bar hoop rod sheet nail and spike Canada plate tin plate rolled plate and boiler plate—have been left as before.
